WORDS FROM WARREN

Hey kids, Warren Buffett here!

Many businesses were started by individuals who decided to pursue their dreams, like Mrs. B. She and her family came from Russia with a dream to build a successful business in America. She had a simple approach: be honest, deal with integrity and give people a bargain. She pursued her dream with passion--nothing stopped her. She built Nebraska Furniture Mart into a large retailer and worked at the store until she was 103 years old. If you have to work the rest of your life, you might as well do something you like. I love what I do and think everyone should pursue their dreams--and if your dreams change, that's okay. A key to success is to be passionate about what you do and to always have a dream. So remember: the person who can't be stopped, won't be stopped! Pursue your dreams.
